Williamsburg Homes Receives Record Number of Top Honors at Maryland Building Industry Association “MAX” Awards

Receives seven awards for excellence in design, livability and value.

Columbia, MD – June 5, 2017 – Williamsburg Homes continues its “Maryland’s Award Winning Builder” winning streak at the 2016 Maryland Building Industry Association (MBIA) MAX Awards, having received a record-setting seven First Place honors for the 34th consecutive year – an achievement unmatched among Maryland builders.

“Among a field of tough competition, our team was honored to be recognized in such a significant way. We won a first place honor in every category entered which was a first for us,” said Bruce Harvey, Williamsburg Homes’ president. “These awards characterize the highest level of quality and design in new home building,” said Lori Graf, MBIA CEO. “These are the best in Maryland,” continued Graf.

The MAX Awards program recognizes homebuilders in Maryland who provide buyers with excellence in design, livability and value in town homes and single-family homes.

The Williamsburg Homes’ team was a winner in the Outstanding Product category receiving awards for the “Ellicott II” ($300,000 to $399,999 price point), the “Chesapeake” and Tidewater models ($400,000 to $499,999 price point), the “Donleigh” model ($500,000 to $599,999 price point), the “Takoma” ($950,000 to $999,999 price point), the “Hawthorne” in the $1.3 million and higher and the “Wellington” in the $1.5 million and higher category.

“Being ‘Maryland’s Award Winning Builder’ is more than just a slogan” said Tim Morris, executive vice president. “Our 34-year legacy of consistently designing and bringing to market award winning homes wouldn’t be possible without every level of our company combining their inspiration and passion to create truly extraordinary homes. Each and every year we propel ourselves to new heights.”

Williamsburg Homes is currently building communities throughout Howard, Montgomery, Carroll, Baltimore and Anne Arundel Counties.
